Course Description: This course introduces and examines exceptionalities of learning with a focus on understanding current social and educational responsibilities. The purpose of this course is to give an introduction to special education as well as an overview of some current issues relating to educating the exceptional learner. Introduction to laws including IDEA and ADA will be discussed in terms of how they affect schools, intervention and community organizations. A brief history of how far special education has come will also be included in this course.

Relationship to Campus Theme: The purpose of the Education and Human Development Discipline is to educate students for careers as paraeducators, teachers, early childhood professionals and adult caregivers. The discipline provides coursework which transitions to higher degrees and work-related skills. Programs must prepare professionals based on industry standards and provide an educational continuum for degree advancement. Dakota College at Bottineau is committed to a hands-on learning environment and uses field experiences in educational settings as common instructional techniques.

Goals/Objectives: Upon completion of this course, student will be able to:

- Better understand special education
- Stay current on laws such as IDEA, ADA and NCLB
- Speak in "people first" language
- Understand the broad array of disabilities concerning educators today
- Give the history and origins of special education
- Discuss types of Early Intervention services
- Understand Individual Family Service Plans as well as Individual Education Plans
- Better understand the professionalism, cultural sensitivity and family-based service model that must be used when dealing with families

Academic and Institution Policies:

Academic Integrity

The academic community is operated on the basis of honesty, integrity and fair play. It is the expectation that all students, as members of the college community, adhere to the highest levels of academic integrity. This means that students are responsible for submitting their own work. Student work must not be plagiarized. Students must not cooperate on oral or written examinations or work together one valuated assignments without authorization. Students should have high ethical standards and conduct themselves in an appropriate manner.

View the Plagiarism Tutorial-Pearson Education to learn more about plagiarism, citing sources, etc.

Confidentiality

The experiences or problems shared by classmates during meeting time are not to be discussed outside of class. This is preparation for those going into a helping field where confidentiality is stressed in the CEC Standards for Professional Practice.

Disabilities and Special Needs

Please inform the instructor within the first week of classes if any assistance is required due to disabilities or special needs. If you have a disability for which you need an accommodation, contact the Learning Center to request disability support services. Phone: (701)228-5477; Toll-free: 1(888)918-5623

Quality of Work

At the college level of learning, it is expected that all work submitted is free of spelling, grammar and punctuation errors.
