Course Description: This course introduces and examines exceptionalities of learning with a focus on understanding current social and educational responsibilities. The purpose of this course is to give an introduction to special education as well as an overview of some current issues relating to educating the exceptional learner. Introduction to laws including IDEA and ADA will be discussed in terms of how they affect schools, intervention and community organizations. A brief history of how far special education has come will also be included in this course.

Relationship to Campus Theme: The purpose of the Education and Human Development Discipline is to educate students for careers as paraeducators, teachers, early childhood professionals and adult caregivers. The discipline provides coursework which transitions to higher degrees and work-related skills. Programs must prepare professionals based on industry standards and provide an educational continuum for degree advancement. Dakota College at Bottineau is committed to a hands-on learning environment and uses field experiences in educational settings as common instructional techniques.

Goals/Objectives: Upon completion of this course, student will be able to:

- Better understand special education

Required Textbooks and Materials:

Hallahan, D., Kauffman, J., & Pullen, P. (2008). Exceptional learners: An introduction to special education (11th ed.). Boston, MA: Pearson Allyn & Bacon.

Course Requirements:

Description of Assignment/Assessment
Forums, Activities &amp; Quizzes: Serves as practice opportunity for course objectives and formative assessment on material learned, as well as encourages peer interaction within the online shell. Activities vary from week to week.
Family Resource List: Students will compile a list of resources relevant to families with children with special needs
Case Law Review: Students will examine and reflect upon special education case law and determine how it is applied to today's teaching.
Inclusion Passport: Students will create a passport for a student with a disability. The passport will include a description of how the student's disability affects learning, learning needs and strategies, goals as well as a summary of provisions offered by the school to meet the pupil's needs.
Communication Project: Students will develop a communication device for a student without verbal language, write a brief summary of the project, and present it to the class.
Videos: Films will be posted in online shell to allow students a more in-depth understanding of some of the disabilities. Students will be expected to watch the films and respond to the material.
Assessments: There will be two assessments. One is a traditional assessment (short answer, multiple choice etc...) and the other is a case study assessment (open book).

Grades: Grades are earned through points and converted into a percentage. Percentages are calculated by dividing the total points earned by the total points possible. Grades are assigned to percentages as follows:

Percent	Grade
90-100%	A	Target
80-89%	B	Acceptable-high
70-79%	C	Acceptable-low
61-70%	D	Unacceptable
0-59%	F	Unacceptable

Academic and Institution Policies:

Academic Integrity

The academic community is operated on the basis of honesty, integrity and fair play. It is the expectation that all students, as members of the college community, adhere to the highest levels of academic integrity. This means that students are responsible for submitting their own work. Student work must not be plagiarized. Students must not cooperate on oral or written examinations or work together on valued assignments without authorization. Students should have high ethical standards and conduct themselves in an appropriate manner.

View the Plagiarism Tutorial-Pearson Education to learn more about plagiarism, citing sources, etc.

Confidentiality

The experiences or problems shared by classmates during meeting time are not to be discussed outside of class. This is preparation for those going into a helping field where confidentiality is stressed in the CEC Standards for Professional Practice.

Disabilities and Special Needs

Please inform the instructor within the first week of classes if any assistance is required due to disabilities or special needs. If you have a disability for which you need an accommodation, contact the Learning Center to request disability support services. Phone: (701)228-5477; Toll-free: 1(888)918-5623

Quality of Work

At the college level of learning, it is expected that all work submitted is free of spelling, grammar and punctuation errors. Participation in the course is expected and taken into account when determining course grades. Discussion and information must be thought-out, in-depth and incorporate new vocabulary and concepts learned during the course.
