GRADING:

Course and clinical grades are based on various activities and assignments designated by the faculty. The criteria by which grades for each theory and clinical course are determined are included in course syllabi distributed to students. Students have access to and should review the learning management system grading calculation method.

Students are responsible for knowing what their grades are during the course. Please review the gradebook frequently. If an assignment or exam in the student's gradebook says the assignment or exam has not been submitted or has not been entered, it is then treated as a fact that the student did not do the assignment or exam unless the student has written proof that they did in fact complete and submit such assignment/exam as outlined in the directions. Make sure your assignments are submitted well before the due date to ensure timely submission. Whenever a student has unsatisfactory grades during the semester, they should contact the instructor for guidance.

Incomplete Grades: Incomplete grades will be given to a student only when extreme circumstances have prevented the student from completing all work by the end of the term and will be given at the discretion of the faculty and as noted in the college catalog. An incomplete grade must be made up within four weeks of the end of the semester following that in which the incomplete grade was received. Work not completed by that time will be converted to the grade indicated by the instructor.

Artificial Intelligence:

Artificial Intelligence (AI) programs such as Microsoft Co-Pilot, may be required to help generate ideas and develop skills in using AI tools. Do not use AI unless it is specifically required in your assignment directions. Your college plagiarism policy will be followed if AI is not used in an ethical, transparent manner.

AI is a tool; it does not replace your critical thinking skills. It should give you ideas that you would then verify against other reliable sources. You would then paraphrase that material in your own words and cite the reliable source.

Note that material generated by AI programs is often inaccurate and incomplete. Do not trust what AI says unless you can back it up with a credible source. Note that material generated by an AI program may change each time you access that URL. Generative AI is not a reputable source.

Assignments: All assignments must be completed and submitted on time in the manner specified by the faculty. Students may fail the course if all assignments are not completed. Late/makeup work will not be accepted (student will receive a 0%) unless previously arranged with the instructor or impacted by extenuating circumstances.

Students will notify the course instructor of any issues in completing assignments or exams. "Notification" means that the student sends an email with the appropriate information or speaks directly to the nursing instructor by telephone or in person.

See Blackboard course and assignment rubrics for details.

- Discussion Threads: Access course every Monday for discussion topic that is due Thursday at 1159. Then access on Friday to respond to discussion thread by Saturday at 1159.
- Other assignments are due every Friday at 1159 PM.

Exams:

1. Notification for absence from:
 - Exam: Students will notify the lead course instructor prior to missing an exam. “Notification” for an exam absence means that the student sends an email with the appropriate information or speaks directly to the nursing instructor.
 - All exams must be made up within 24 hours of the due date, excluding weekends and holidays.

Remediation of Exams

1. A student earning less than 76% on an exam is required to make an appointment with the course instructor for a review of the test within 48 hours after the grade is posted.

Student Responsibilities

If a student has concerns after taking an exam the following process must be followed:

1. The student contacts the instructor via email with concerns/questions related to the exam.
2. Adjustments to examinations can be made at the discretion of the instructor. The instructor will notify the student of their decision.
3. The student is responsible for keeping silent about the exam content until all sites have taken the exam. This means there is to be no talking or writing about the exam with another student. If a student discusses or gives answers to a student who has not taken the exam, this will be viewed as cheating, (academic dishonesty).

Records of Grades: The faculty strongly endorses the idea that each student is responsible for knowing his/her own academic status based on grades from learning activities. Grades are recorded in the Blackboard Grade Center. All gradebook questions must be addressed by the student to the lead instructor at midterm and then again during the week before finals. There will be no changes accepted to the gradebook regarding absent or late/missed assignments or late/missed exams during finals week. It is the student’s responsibility to know what their grades are and contact the instructor for a plan to improve.

Course Etiquette: It is expected that students will show sensitivity to their peers as well as instructor by avoiding any activity that is rude or causes discomfort to others. You are expected to participate in course discussions (threads) and any other contact with your faculty or peers in a courteous and respectful manner.

Course study expectations: Commitment to learning is important to success. For every semester credit hour you are taking in a class, three hours need to be set aside in your weekly schedule to read, study, and devote time towards your education outside of class.

For example: NURS 120 (2 credits) x 3 hours = 6 hours/week to study (minimal recommended study hours per week.)

Academic Dishonesty: Academic honesty is held in the highest regard. Academic dishonesty will be addressed following the policies outlined in your college catalog. Dishonesty may result in failure of the course.

ACCOMMODATIONS:

To request academic accommodation due to a disability that may limit your ability to fully participate in a class/lab/clinical, please contact the accessibility or disability services office at your college. Personnel from that office will work with you and your instructor to arrange for reasonable accommodation after you have completed the registration process and it has been determined that you qualify. It is the student's responsibility to obtain the request for accommodation and provide it to the instructor and local campus nursing director. An accommodation must be renewed through the accessibility or disability services office and the course faculty every semester.

WEB STREAMING (Yuja and Blackboard Collaborate platforms):

Yuja/Blackboard Collaborate are lecture and content capture software chosen by the ND University System to provide that service for its 11 campuses. Yuja/Blackboard Collaborate enables faculty, students, and staff to record presentations, lessons, training, an entire lecture, and more. The recorded content is searchable, provides for notetaking and participant rating of content, can be streamed live, and can be used on portable devices having internet access. Yuja/Blackboard Collaborate integrate with most learning management systems and are ADA compliant. An instructor's lecture is recorded and stored in a learning management system for the semester. Instructors will record lectures on Yuja/Blackboard Collaborate. The recordings will be available for viewing for the semester.

FACULTY/STUDENT COMMUNICATION:

Faculty/students are responsible for checking course announcements in Blackboard, bulletin boards and/or mailboxes as appropriate for messages. Email is used extensively within the Blackboard Learning Management System; students are responsible for having a working college email account and checking it daily during the semester. Students and faculty are expected to respond to emails promptly – within 48 hours during a usual work week or as requested. The purpose is to ensure rapid communication.

Faculty and students must identify themselves professionally with each contact (mail, email, or telephone). This includes first and last name as well as NURS 120 Online

Communication between students and faculty should remain on a professional level with no questionable jokes, cartoons, etc. transmitted. Students using the institution's computer labs are reminded that they cannot download information onto the computer hard drives. Any information must be stored on an alternate drive.
